RAJ CHOUDHARY

Backend Developer || Node.js Developer

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

In addition to my expertise in Node.js development, I have also developed APIs for two mobile applications. By leveraging my skills in server-side development and RESTful APIs, I have created robust and scalable solutions that cater to the specific needs of these mobile applications. With a focus on delivering exceptional user experiences, I ensure that the APIs provide seamless integration between the mobile applications and the server-side functionalities. Through effective communication and collaboration, I work closely with the mobile app & web development teams to understand their requirements and provide efficient solutions.
